ANTI-TRUST MEASURE PASSES OKLAHOMA HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

EFFECTIVE RESTRAINING LAW

State Is Empowered to Forfeit Property of Offending Corporations. Hatchett's Bill Passes.

Guthrie, Ok., April 24.—The House of representatives today passed the senate's anti-trust bill, under which it is claimed the state will be in a position to curb or wipe out illegal commercial combinations operated in restraint of trade.

Amendments were made, however, curtailing the authority conferred by the senate upon county attorneys to bring actions under the law in the district courts. The house rests original jurisdiction with the supreme court only, and provided that such suits shall be brought by the Attorney general of the state.

The provision under which the state may proceed against virtual monopolies remains, and the state is given power to forfeit all of the personal property as well as the commodities of offending corporations at any stage of such proceeding a receiver may be appointed by the court. In cases of contempt arising from enforcement of the law the supreme court may assign such case to a district court for hearing, but the right is reserved to the supreme court to pass final sentence and pronounce judgment.

The house refused to adopt Mr. Hobdy's amendment permitting the pooling of agricultural products for fear such would render the act unconstitutional, and it was agreed that the idea would be embodied in a separate measure. That portion of the senate's bill permitting the character of a combination or so-called trust to be established by its general reputation was eliminated.

The house also passed the bill by Senator Hatchett, accepting first mortgages on real estate as bonds in civil and criminal cases. The senate today had under consideration the Rainey bill, establishing a court of criminal appeals, to be composed of three members, who are to receive $4,000 per year, the dispositioin being to reduce the salary allowances. Among the new bill offered in the Senate today were by Senator Brook, regulating the practice of dentistry, and by Senator Stafford creating the office of County Coroner.

Gov. Haskell gave notice of havsigned the joint resolution by Senator Russell for the appointment of a committee from the legislature to investigate the Torrens system of registration of land titles and the bill by Mr. Tillotson, vitalizing the county division sections of the state constitution.

245 DEAD, OVER 400 HURT IN STORM THROUGH SOUTH

Towns and Villages in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi and Alabama Wrecked.

Windstorms killed upward of two hundred people outside this state yesterday and in Texas great property loss, serious crop damage, with numbers of persons more or less seriously injured, were reported from points in northern, eastern, northeaster nand central sections of the state, the greatest force of the wind appearing to have been felt at Mineola, Wood county, where damage uward of $25,000 was done when the wind made havoc in the business part of the town and one woman in the country near-by was seriously, probably fatally injured. Nineteen buildings were damaged near Daingerfield, Morris county, and seven hurt, a number with minor injuries and twelve buildings wrecked at Oak Grove, five miles west of De Kalb, Bowie county.

At Stagner, Wood County, four are dead, according to reports received at Big Sandy yesterday.

One dead, three not expected to survive until this morning and between $125,000 and $150,000 damage is the later report from the storm that struck Deport, Lamar county. Sixty-two houses were destroyed or almost totally wrecked, including the Baptist church, the Masonic Hall, the Presbyterian church, the school house, the oil mill and all the sheds and seed houses.

At Grand Saline, Van Zandt county, the tomato crop is reported ruined and other truck seriously damaged. In Navarro county, near Rice and other small towns in the vicinity of Corsicana and Ennis, tenant houses were blown away, one may die from injuries and the crops are probably ruined. In Oklahoma a dozen buildings were struck at Hugo, beating rain smashed trees and other vegetation and the crop damage can not be estimated. In Arkansas, three are known to have been killed near De Queen, in the southwestern part of the state, and many houses were blown away.

With over a hundred people dead and many more than that number injured, cyclones in portions of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama late yesterday left a trail of wreckage, the loss of which can not be properly estimated until after the work of caring for the injured and gathering and burying the bodies of the dead shall have been finished.

About thirty white persons and fifty negroes were killed by the tornado at Purvis, Miss.

INVESTMENT BILL IS DISLIKED.

Committee Adverse to Proposed Act Patterned After Texas Insurance Law.

Guthrie, Ok., April 24.—There will be no legislation this session requiring insurance companies to invest in state securities or property 75 per cent of the premiums collected in the state. The entire day in the district court has been given to the hearing of the Tom Birdwell murder case.

The Vanishing Fleets

CHAPTER VI.

The Flight of Seigo.

Seigo understood at last that the sleeping eagle was preparing to descend from its aerie with mercilessly bared talons. In his flight to the city he counted every moment of value, and through his mind went but one thought: How to get news to Japan in time to avert disaster. What he had witnessed was so convincing that he was amazed at the devilish ingenuity of the Americans, who had led the whole world to believe them defenseless when they were in reality only luring other nations on to their doom. He was filled with resentment. The shoe was on the other foot now, and it made a noticeable difference. When he believed the United States powerless to defend itself, it had been only fit and proper that Japan should harry her, conquer if possible, and gain concessions of territory and money indemnity; but with the knowledge that the country was not only in a position to care for itself, but also to conquer an enemy, he viewed things in an entirely different light.

Worst of all, he realized that he was more largely responsible for the outburst of war than any other man, and aside from the ignominy which must be imposed upon his people was the appreciation of what might happen to his own precious head when resentment chanced to act against him. Yesterday he had been smiling, supercilious and confident. To-night as he ran, he was terrified, ashamed and despairing.

Information had come to him that the blockade was complete, and in no instance was he certain that any of his reports had passed through the lines. He rapidly reviewed the chances, and decided that he must get word to every man at his command to strive to pass a warning through to Canadian territory where it might be cabled to Japan. He counted, with Japanese reasoning, on his ability to bribe some one along the border, forgetting that when American patriotism is at full tide money has little weight. He had large funds at command, and in a crisis like this was ready to pour them out lavishly.

His return to the capital was rapid, as he strained his physical powers to their utmost, and he was almost exhausted when he reached the section where his Chinese ally dwelt. With dragging steps he was turning down a street, when a sharp whispered calling of his name from the depths of a hallway arrested him. Stepping inside, he recognized his friend. The instant he was under the cover of darkness he was grasped by the arm and hurried through a doorway and up a flight of stairs. He would have remonstrated at this strange proceeding had not his conductor mumbled: "Come fast and ask nothing! It's your only chance to save your life!"

Through a long corridor where there were no lights, out to a back porch which overhung skeleton-like from the building in which the residents were evidently all asleep, down another flight of rickety stairs, and into a vacant space, presumably a back yard, he followed. Not until they reached this secluded place did he have a chance to ask an explanation, and then, before he could formulate a question, it was volunteered.

"The American secret service men have been after you. They are watching the house inside and out. They've seized your papers and everything else in the place. I escaped and brought you money with which to go."

"But my men?"

"Arrested as fast as they came; taken quietly away, and now in prison."

"Meredith, too?"

"Yes, he was taken in the street above."

Seigo gasped in astonishment. "But there must be some who got away?"

"No, not even one. You're the only man left. The Americans are a terrible people. They have hoodwinked you until the time was ripe, then reached out and caught you all as a fisherman with his net takes in a school of minnows. Even now they are waiting for you, and you'll have to act quick or they will get you too."

The spy felt suddenly that he had underestimated the enemy completely. An involuntary shudder contracted his muscles when he comprehended that not only had he been watched until the propitious time for his taking, but that he had been deliberately played with, an unconscious mouse beneath the eyes of a vigilant cat. Worst of all, this in itself was confirmation that none of the later reports he had sent out to Japan had reached their destination. Probably every message he had dispatched was now in the hands of the Americans. His only hope of conveying warning to his countrymen and for his own life depended on his escape from the clutches of these men, who could appear ignorant and torpid when in reality they were advised and alert. In a burst of impotent rage he shook his fists at the stars. His companion caught his arm.

"Listen!" he said. "You have but one chance. You must get away from Washington to-night. I have a friend, a Canton man, who is a gardener in the outskirts. If we can reach him he will take you in his wagon to a railway crossing before the light comes. There you can get aboard a freight train."

"Go as a tramp?"

"Yes, because all other trains will be searched."

Seigo shrugged his shoulders in disgust. He would have uttered a protest in words had not his companion checked him and continued:

"If you are careful you can get to Chicago, where other friends of mine will help you. Then you must try to reach Canada as best you can."

Seigo hesitated a minute before deciding; but it was obvious that no better means was available. Together the two men crept through alleyways and back streets to the outskirts of the city, until they came to the hovel where lived the truck farmer on whom they placed their hope. He, experienced in the ways of the Americans through long residence in California and standing in dread of the law, was at first loath to undertake the part assigned to him; but the clink of gold coin overcame his fears, and in the end Seigo sought sleep in the bottom of a covered wagon while being driven to the place where he was to assume a new role. He felt alone and deserted when the gardener departed, leaving him standing at an intersection of railway tracks waiting impatiently for a freight train on which he was to make his first excursion into trampdom.

It came at last, a heavy snorting locomotive pulling a long trailer of empties. It whistled shrilly for the crossing, watched for a signal from the lonely little tower, and came to a full stop. Seigo, with his heart in his mouth, clambered through the side door of an empty car and was soon traveling westward to the rhythmic clank of wheels on rails. Fatigue at last overcame him and he slowly dropped into a restless sleep in which he was pursued by demons and confronted by unknown terrors. He was aroused by a brakeman, who roughly punched him in the ribs with the toe of his boot and told him to "Hike out!" He sat up and blinked his eyes until again ordered to vacate, and then came to his senses sufficiently to make a plea for himself, which was unavailing. The brakeman was obdurate and threatening, until the spy crawled stiffly out.

He sat wearily down on a pile of ties, and the brakeman, still watchful, stood in front until the long train dragged past, then reached out a grimy hand, swung lightly onto the steps of the caboose, and shook his fist at the supposed Chinaman as he disappeared. A tramp of the most degraded sort approached him and with the camaraderie of the homeless dropped into conversation with him. Food and rum made him an ally, and, finding an easy source of assistance without effort, the tramp avowed that he, too, was bound for Chicago.

Under this expert tutelage the Japanese reached the metropolis of the west, where he bade his friend good-by and sought the Chinese to whom he had letters. Again he faced a reverse; for these men with one accord told him there was no possibility of evading the sentries to the north, and that his only means of escape must of necessity be in the far northwest. Sympathizers first, but traffickers always, they mulcted him of his money, and in return made it possible for him to travel to Seattle. They bought a ticket, provided him with a Chinese certificate of entry whose pictured corner was sufficiently close in resemblance, and saw him off on his journey.

Time and again in that long trip he was dragged out and compelled to show his papers, proving that he was always a suspect. Once a threat was made to hold him over; but his persuasive tongue secured immunity from arrest.

In constant terror until his nerves became shreds to torment him, alert

Do not pronounce us a humbug without a trial. Bring your Family Physician with You and let us examine your case together, before and after treatment.

If your case is pronounced curable, all we ask is a trial. Don't stay away because some one has told you that you could not be cured, or some one tells you "he is a quack or humbug." Dr. Burch will be honest with you if you will only give him a trial.

We sometimes yet, in this age of Medical Science, find some doctors ready to cry out "Quack and Humbug" because we travel. We have nothing to hide, and court investigation, and invite all reputable physicians to call and see us. We will say to the physicians: Those having patients needing our services will upon application, receive such professional courtesies as will merit their highest regard, and redound to the interest of both doctor and patient. Remember, Dr. Burch has been in this special line of practice for 23 years, and for the last 16 years has been visiting your neighboring counties and towns of Arkansas. All wishing the benefit of this ten days' treatment must call on the first four days. All Surgical Operations Cash.

CATARRH OF HEAD AND NOSE

Nasal Catarrh can positively be cured by constitutional and local treatment, and so can the adjacent respiratory organs by inhaling treatment. This being the only possible system by which catarrh can be treated successfully. The three different forms of catarrh need three systems of medication. This can only be carried out by the doctor, aided by instruments, observing directly and treating the same. Catarrh extends to the frontal sinews, causing headach over the eyes; to the cheek, causing faceache; to the ears, pain, inflamation and gradual deafness; to the throat, causing enlarged tousils, chronic sore throat, loss of voice and hoarsness, bronchitis and consumption. All of the latter can only be treated by local, internal and inhaling treatment, as they are air passages and not for liquids

The Flight of Seigo.

Seigo understood at last that the sleeping eagle was preparing to descend from its aerie with mercilessly bared talons In his flight to the city he counted every moment of value, and through his mind went but one thought How to get news to Japan in time to avert disaster What he had witnessed was so convincing that he was amazed at the devilish ingenuity of the Americans who had led the whole world to believe them defenseless when they were in reality only luring other nations on to their doom He was filled with resentment The shoe was on the other foot now and it made a noticeable difference When he believed the United States powerless to defend itself it had been only fit and proper that Japan should harry her, conquer if possible, and gain concessions of territory and money indemnity but with the knowledge that the country was not only in a position to care for itself but also to conquer an enemy he viewed things in an entirely different light

Worst of all, he realized that he was more largely responsible for the outburst of war than any other man, and aside from the ignominy which must be imposed upon his people was the appreciation of what might happen to his own precious head when resentment chanced to act against him Yesterday he had been smiling supercilious and confident To night as he ran, he was terrified, ashamed and despairing

Information had come to him that the blockade was complete, and in no instance was he certain that any of his reports had passed through the lines He rapidly reviewed the chances and decided that he must get word to every man at his command to strive to pass a warning through to Canadian territory where it might be cabled to Japan He counted, with Japanese reasoning on his ability to bribe some one along the border for getting that when American patriotism is at full tide money has little weight He had large funds at command, and in a crisis like this was ready to pour them out lavishly

His return to the capital was rapid as he strained his physical powers to their utmost and he was almost exhausted when he reached the section where his Chinese ally dwelt With dragging steps he was turning down a street when a sharp whispered calling of his name from the depths of a hallway arrested him Stepping inside he recognized his friend The instant he was under the cover of darkness he was grasped by the arm and hurried through a doorway and up a flight of stairs He would have remonstrated at this strange proceeding had not his conductor mumbled "Come fast and make nothing! It's your only chance to save your life!

Through a long corridor where there were no lights out to a back porch which overhung skeleton like from the building in which the residents were evidently all asleep down another flight of rickety stairs and into a vacant space presumably a back yard he followed Not until they reached this secluded place did he have a chance to ask an explanation and then before he could formulate a question it was volunteered

"The American secret service men have been after you They are watching the house inside and out They've seized your papers and everything else in the place I escaped and brought you money with which to go

"But my men?

"Arrested as fast as they came taken quietly away and now in prison

Meredith too?

"Yes he was taken in the street above

Seigo gasped in astonishment But there must be some who got away?

"No not even one You're the only man left The Americans are a terrible people They have hoodwinked you until the time was ripe then reached out and caught you all as a fisherman with his net takes in a school of minnows Even now they are waiting for you and you'll have to act quick or they will get you too

The spy felt suddenly that he had underestimated the enemy completely An involuntary shudder contracted his muscles when he comprehended that not only had he been watched until the propitious time for his taking but that he had been deliberately played with, an unconscious mouse beneath the eyes of a vigilant cat Worst of all, this in itself was confirmation that none of the later reports he had sent out to Japan had reached their destination Probably every message he had dispatched was now in the hands of the Americans His only hope of conveying warning to his countrymen and for his own life depended on his escape from the clutches of these men, who could appear ignorant and torpid when in reality they were advised and alert In a burst of impotent rage he shook his fists at the stars. His companion caught his arm

"Listen!" he said 'You have but one chance You must get away from Washington to night I have a friend, a Canton man who is a gardener in the outskirts If we can reach him he will take you in his wagon to a rail way crossing before the light comes There you can get aboard a freight train"

Go as a tramp?"

'Yes, because all other trains will be searched'

Seigo shrugged his shoulders in disgust He would have uttered a protest in words had not his companion checked him and continued

If you are careful you can get to Chicago, where other friends of mine will help you Then you must try to reach Canada as best you can'

Seigo hesitated a minute before deciding but it was obvious that no better means was available Together the two men crept through alleyways and back streets to the outskirts of the city, until they came to the hovel where lived the truck farmer on whom they placed their hope He experienced in the ways of the Americans through long residence in California and standing in dread of the law was at first loath to undertake the part assigned to him but the clink of gold coin overcame his fears and in the end Seigo sought sleep in the bottom of a covered wagon while being driven to the place where he was to assume a new role He felt alone and deserted when the gardener departed leaving him standing at an intersection of rail way tracks waiting impatiently for a freight train on which he was to make his first excursion into trampdom

It came at last, a heavy snorting locomotive pulling a long trailer of empties It whistled shrilly for the crossing watched for a signal from the lonely little tower, and came to a full stop Seigo with his heart in his mouth, clambered through the side door of an empty car and was soon traveling westward to the rhythmic clank of wheels on rails Fatigue at last overcame him and he slowly dropped into a restless sleep in which he was pursued by demons and confronted by unknown terrors He was aroused by a brakeman who roughly punched him in the ribs with the toe of his boot and told him to Hike out! He sat up and blinked his eyes until again ordered to vacate and then came to his senses sufficiently to make a plea for himself which was unavailing The brakeman was obdurate and threatening, until the spy crawled stiffly out

He sat wearily down on a pile of ties and the brakeman still watchful stood in front until the long train dragged past then reached out a grimy hand swung lightly onto the steps of the caboose and shook his fist at the supposed Chinaman as he disappeared A tramp of the most degraded sort approached him and with the camaraderie of the homeless dropped

into conversation with him Food and rum made him an ally, and finding an easy source of assistance without effort, the tramp avowed that he too, was bound for Chicago

Under this expert tutelage the Japanese reached the metropolis of the west where he bade his friend good by and sought the Chinese to whom he had letters Again he faced a reverse for these men with one accord told him there was no possibility of evading the sentries to the north, and that his only means of escape must of necessity be in the far north west Sympathizers first but traffickers always, they mulcted him of his money and in return made it possible for him to travel to Seattle They bought a ticket provided him with a Chinese certificate of entry whose pictured corner was sufficiently close in resemblance, and saw him off on his journey

Time and again in that long trip he was dragged out and compelled to show his papers, proving that he was always a suspect Once a threat was made to hold him over, but his persuasive tongue secured immunity from arrest

In constant terror until his nerves became shreds to torment him, alert

He Is Coming Again

DR. L. M. BURCH

The Renowned Specialist On

Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat, Catarrh and Stomach Troubles

Office: Over Ada National Bank ═══ Remain 14 Days

Deafness of the ear from catarrh cured. Running of the ears, earache and all defects and deformities carefully observed and treated successfully

All diseases of the Eyes treated ten days FREE, if satisfaction is not given. Be it remembered that Dr. Burch is no stranger to many of the citizens of your town and county. Dr. Burch is one of the best known Specialists of the state of Arkansas, as he has visited nearly every important city and town in the state time after time, and there are many citizens of the county of Pontotoc and Ada who are loud in his praise for what he has done for them

Examination FREE. Positively no incurable cases taken under treatment. Those needing the services of Dr. Burch should not miss this golden opportunity to obtain relief.

Do not pronounce us a humbug without a trial. Bring your Family Physician with You and let us examine your case together, before and after treatment.

Remember, Dr. Burch is not one of those would-be "Eye Doctors" who often invade your town and county with a few pet remedies, to cure every disease of the eye, but he is a doctor who will, upon examination of your case, tell you whether he can do you any good or not. If your case is pronounced curable, all we ask is a trial Don't stay away because some one has told you that you could not be cured, or some one tells you "he is a quack or humbug." Dr. Burch will be honest with you if you will only give him a trial.

Again we repeat Bring your family physician with you if he has your case at heart he will come, or advise you to come. We sometimes yet, in this age of Medical Science, find some doctors ready to cry out "Quack and Humbug" because we travel We have nothing to hide, and court investigation, and invite all reputable physicians to call and see us. We will say to the physicians Those having patients needing our services will upon application, receive such professional courtesies as will merit their highest regard, and redound to the interest of both doctor and patient. Remember, Dr. Burch has been in this special line of practice for 23 years, and for the last 16 years has been visiting your neighboring counties and towns of Arkansas All wishing the benefit of this ten days' treatment must call on the first four days All Surgical Operations Cash.

CATARRH OF HEAD AND NOSE

Nasal Catarrh can positively be cured by constitutional and local treatment, and so can the adjacent respiratory organs by inhaling treatment This being the only possible system by which catarrh can be treated successfully. The three different forms of catarrh need three systems of medication. This can only be carried out by the doctor, aided by instruments, observing directly and treating the same Catarrh extends to the frontal sinews, causing headach over the eyes, to the cheek, causing faceache, to the ears, pain, inflamation and gradual deafness; to the throat, causing enlarged tousils, chronic sore throat, loss of voice and hoarseness, bronchitis and consumption All of the latter can only be treated by local, internal and inhaling treatment, as they are air passages and not for liquids

GORE AROUSES DEMOCRACY OF EAST

The Washington Times, the leading democratic paper of the National Capitol in leading headlines reports the speech of Oklahoma's Senator at the Washington meeting for the selection of delegates to National convention

The News hereunder reproduces the headline expressions and excerpts of Senator Gore's speech as reported:

Gore Lambasts Republican Rule. Says 440 Grasping Trusts Have Formed Under Administration's Wing. Oklahoma Cheered from Both Sides. "My Campaign Fund," "My Cabinet," President Roosevelt's Policy, He Asserts.

"My policies," "My Navy," and "My world" were ridiculted by Senator Gore of Oklahoma in a scathing denunciation of the republican party delivered at the district democratic convention for the selection of delegates to the national convention held at the national Rifles Armory this afternoon.

"The Chief Executive," said Senator Gore, "is and has been for some time afflicted with a malignant attack of plutophobia. Undesirable citizens, rapidly filling clubs of Ananiases and male-factors of great wealth are in the range of his wrath None can hope to escape him and his powerful big stick unless they are contributors to 'My campaign fund,' or are in 'My cabinet'—in other words that they are in 'My official family.'

"Louis XIV said: 'I am the state.'

"Roosevelt goes him one better and says: 'I am the United States.'

"In the last eleven years of republican misrule 440 industrial combinations, call them what you will, have been organized in the United States; 440 greedy, grasping and oppressive combinations of capital have been formed for the benevolent purpose of robbing the American people from the cradle to the grave.

'What has escaped their greedy grasp? They have rifled the cradle and the swaddling clothes and have laid tribute upon the coffin and the winding sheet. Could they do it, they would willingly place a meter on the mothers' breast and charge the infant by the dram.

"We should thank God, gentlemen, that the Administration has been antagonistic to industrial combination. With Roosevelt's wrath hanging over them more combinations of concentrated wealth have been formed in the last eleven years of republican misrule than since the time that the stars shone and water danced about a dawning creation. From Tyrus to Theodore, from Rameses to Roosevelt.

Combinations Shielded.

There can be no question, gentlemen, but that combinations have been formed by republican legislation Tariff shields them abroad and rebates protect them at home.

The democrats and the republicans differ in the method of revising the tariff. The democrats would revise it today, the republicans tomorrow, and by its friends. If we should ever fall into a state of anarchy the historian sitting among the ruins of a great republic must need ascribe the downfall to the abandonment by the republican party of republican principles.

"The people should not trust a party that will not trust the people.

"I come from a state that stands foremost for democracy. In Oklahoma the governed govern, but even in my state the Rough Riders who are out of a job and jail are appointed to offices of responsibility.

"We should not be deceived, gentlemen, by the bunco-square deal.

Cause of Panic.

"The panic of 1907 was presumptuous, it ought not to have come as it did during a republican administration. The republicans have always told us that panics are essentially the doings of the democratic party. This panic came at a most unpropitious moment? It held up the hollow policy of the republican claim that panics are the children of democracy. The panic came during a republican administration, and because of a high tariff fostered by the republican party. It came as all other panics and stingencies have come through the republican principles of high tariff.

"The big fish wished to swallow the little fish. He swallowed him and his appetite is abated. The day after the panic found the United States with the same wealth, the same intelligence, the same commerce, the same industry, and the same ability that it had before the panic. It was a move of capital and congress should investigate its cause and inform the people of the United States of the names of the pirates who shipwrecked prosperity.

Democrats Should Win.

"We should win, gentlemen. With a united democracy and a divided republican party we should repeat our glorious victory of 1892. Possibly the republican party will select the great 'I Am' as its candidate. Possibly the heir apparent has already been nominated and selected to sit upon the throne, but with our united democracy we need fear neither."

At the close of his speech Senator Gore was compelled to remain standing several minutes in response to the tremendous ovation accorded him Cheers and cries of "We win," "Democracy forever," and other campaign slogans shook the hall. Men cheered and rising in their seats waved their hats in the air. It was probably the most enthusiastic reception ever accorded an address in the District.

Cotton Report.

The city editor of the News is in receipt of a circular letter giving the condition of the cotton crop up to May 18th throughout the entire belt since the 18th however the severe rains we have had has again injured the crop and we believe with a full good weather needed a full crop cannot be made Below is the summary of the several different states

"Weather conditions during the past month were favorable in 83 and unfavorable in 487 counties The season is earlier in 199 later in 201 and the same date as last year in 170 counties. About 22 5 per cent of the crop remains to be planted The indications are that the acreage will be 13 per cent greater than that of last year The complaint is general that much of the time the weather has been so unseasonably cold and wet that where the plant was up its growth has been retarded and its appearance in many of the younger plants were killed or so badly injured by frosts and cold weather about the first of the month as to necessitate replanting in 141 counties (last year replanting occurred in 240 counies) The damage from cold weather extended over the entire belt but was greatest in South Carolina Georgia, Alabama Mississippi and Texas While the crop has not had an encouraging start the delay in planting and the damage it has sustained may yet be overcome by favorable weather

FLOODS CAUSE HEAVY DAMAGE.

Dam at Dr. Tyson's Irrigation Ditch Breaks—Trains Delayed and Crops Are Injured.

Wichita Falls Tex May 23—One of the heaviest and most extensive rains in recent years fell in this section last night and today The Ft Worth and Denver office reports heavy rains all the way from Fort Worth to Texline The Wichita Valley reports rains from Abilene to Byars and the Wichita Falls route from Olney Tex, to Frederick Ok Washouts and high waters have practically caused a suspension of traffic on all lines out of this place Fort Worth and Denver trains are running from ten to twenty hours late Washouts at Archer City Olney and Frederick have effectually stopped traffic on the Wichita Falls route until the tracks can be repaired Wichita Valley trains are running only as far as Seymour and there were no trains to Byars today

Last night the dam at Dr Tysons irrigation lake near the city broke and a body of water covering about fifty acres swept into the valley below flooding fields and ruining crops over hundreds of acre

In the city electric high wires were blown down and the city was in darkness

Spreading rails caused six cars of a southbound freight to go through a bridge over Deer Creek near the city last midnight

Late this afternoon it seemed certain that the Denvers dam near the city would break Hundreds of section men with bags of sand are fighting to hold back the waters Additional men with supplies are on the way from Childress to help

Wichita River is bank full and swiftly rising Crest of rise is expected at midnight and much damage may be caused by overflow of a portion of the town

The rainfall has been fully six inches and intermittent showers still are falling

The lowlands are almost continuous sheets of water and much damage has been done to crops

Wichita Raises More Cotton.

Wichita Falls Tex May 23—There has been no reduction of the cotton acreage in the Wichita country this season rather has the acreage been increased Last season was the first time that cotton was ever planted in this section to any great extent Last season's experiment was profitable to the cotton growers and this season's acreage is the largest ever planted here reached out a hand to a short halyard, and pulled down the flag of surrender. He rolled it into a bundle and tossed it out into the wall of darkness and from beneath his coat withdrew a bundle which he unfolded and affixed to the loops Suddenly as if bestowing a last honor upon the dying he gave a tug and the flag of Japan was flung to the breeze The Yakumo should not pass to death unhonored and was destined to be the only warrior to go down with colors flying A wild cheer of short duration burst from the vanquished as the officer remounted his ladder and closed his port

The Vanishing Fleets

BY ROY NORTON.

Then released and liberated she fell the brilliant rays following her to the end Down, down down falling at first on an even keel she plunged, her flag fluttering wildly in the descent Gradually she turned bow on as if preparing for the dive to death With terrific force she returned to the waves of the Pacific and entered them throwing up in that mighty impact a tremendous cascade of foaming waters which lashed themselves into the air in mad wraiths of ghostly white surged back in angry billows, and resumed their quietude The Yakumo had gone to the graveyard of the valiant and the searchlights showed nothing more than the crests of the depths which had furnished her a shroud

The men of Japan who had witnessed her parting had been wrapped in breathless silence Now it was broken by one great sob as the man who had commanded her turned away from the bridge of the Ito blinded with tears Above them the port reopened, and the fighting admiral again addressed them, but in a voice which told that he, too, was not without sympathy

Admiral," he said, 'order all your men to go below decks We have been loafing all day, and will have to speed up now. It will be death to stay exposed"

Aroused from their last look at the Yakumo they were amazed at this information but complied and before the last man had crowded down the companionways the wind began shrilling about their ears Away through the night with sudden velocity shot the radioplanes at a speed which would bring them to the coast long before darkness had ceased In all the American fleet there was not a man who did not know that Lake Washington at Seattle was their destination Its landlocked sides guarded by towering hills and giant forests and overlooked by a splendid city was to be the prison of the enemy's craft Its length its breadth and its depth were sufficient to float the combined navies of the world

Their flight was well timed for it was still dark when they swam down through the air over the waters which were to reclasp the ships of Japan in their usual environment The Norma swooped lower and lower decreased the speed of her descent passed over West Seattle on its little peninsula the quiet Puget sound with its long wharves and then gently settled above the placid lake Slowly like a water fowl wearied of flight and seeking its ease it approached the surface and with infinite care rested its burden until the Ito was again afloat

Norma at her chosen post of duty put out a tired hand to a controller gently moved it a notch turned off

Angry Mob Pursues Negro.

Meridian, Miss May 23—A mob of angry citizens today pursued a negro named Charlie Holoway and fears were entertained that if caught he would be lynched but officers who joined in the chase prevented violence when the negro was finally run down

Indignation against Holoway was aroused because it is alleged the negro made the remark that he did not blame Willis Watson for killing Police Officer White and that he would have done the same thing

Willis Watson was shot to death by a posse yesterday and Holoway is said to have made the remark shortly after reviewing the remains of the dead negro Holoway is in jail

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease We think of Dyspepsia Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr Shoop's Restorative Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that wonderful power to Dr Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and absolutely recommend

HEAVY RAINS

Serious Damage to Bridges and Losses Run Into the Thousands

The heavy rains of Friday night and Saturday night did damage to Pontotoc county, that at this time it is impossible to estimate, but no doubt runs into thousands. Numerous bridges, including the Big Sandy bridge went out and will be lost entirely. The country roads in places are washed 'till almost impassable. Sandy was higher than ever known, and quite a number of people had to leave their homes for the hills. Coffman and Owens lost several tons of alfalfa hay that was cut. We have heard of no lives lost. Those people who have been skeptic in regard to the dam at the water works reservoir can now relieve their minds for the test the dam has had and withstood it has proven that the construction is first class and would withstand most any kind of rain. The flood gates were left open and the reservoir has had a thorough washing out.

The railroads leading into the city are absolutely out of business. No trains at all were run on the Katy yesterday and the Frisco only had one train north at 12 o'clock yesterday and one south this morning at 9:30. The Oklahoma Central is washed so badly that it will be several days before they can run trains. The city has had a thorough washing It perhaps has not been as clean in years, and the health of the city will no doubt be better on account of the rains Crops no doubt are seriously damaged in the bottoms Corn is ruined. It is not too late yet to plant cotton and repair a part of the damage done. It is clear and cool today and looks now like we might have some fair weather.

ROFF VISITORS.

Sturdy Farmers Believe in the Future of Pontotoc County.

Ed Fussell, I. F. Fullengme and several other sturdy citizens from Southwest Pontotoc were welcome visitors at the News office Saturday evening.

These gentlemen while deploring the present crop conditions on account of storms and floods were generally optomistic regarding the future of Pontotoc county. When questioned concerning Roff's proposed disposition to leave Pontotoc county for Murray county, they refused to regard the situation seriously, indicating that their regard for the business and political intelligence of the leading Roff citizens and their belief in the reciprocal friendly attitude of Roff for their country neighbors would preclude the city of Roff from executing the threat of action to leave the county of Pontotoc beyond the allowance of a little joke perpetration.

Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the wintertime, the circulation often slows up, the Kidneys are inactive, and even the Heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhwere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, life, vigor and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by G. M. Ramsey.

There is a Pink Pain Tablet made by Dr. Shoop that will positively stop any pain, anywhere, in 20 minutes. Druggists everywhere sell them as Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets, but they stop other pains as well as headache. Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets simply coax blood pressure away from pain centers—that is all. Pain comes from blood pressure — congestion. Stop that pressure wiwth Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets and pain is instantly gone. 20 tablets 25c. Sold by G. M. Ramsey.

Superintendent's Annual Report.

Number of boys enrolled 447, girls 438, total 885. This is a gain of 44 over last year. Number teachers 16 against 15 for last year. Number of pupils per teacher 55. Per cent of attendance 93 against 92.5 for last year. Average salary per month $53. This includes High school teachers and the principals. Number of pupils of scholastic age not enrolled about 150. Number of tardies 1000 against 1300 for last year. Besides these gains, there was improvement in order and discipline, the majority of the teachers being good disciplinarians, but not all. This feature has been emphasized under the present management. There has been a marked improvement in the general moral tone. The use of bad language and the use of tobacco has noticeably been reduced. There has been a reduction in the average age of pupils who are over age for their grades, hence a better grading and classification. The teachers have assumed a more professional attitude toward their work. The time is fast coming when the non-professional teacher must be dropped from the schools of Ada. The organization of the Mothers' Clubs will no doubt be an important milestone in the history of the schools. Great good will come of it. Watch them next year. The homes and schools have been brought closer together and had had better understanding this year. The germ of industrial education has been planted. Let us cultivate it, it will bear luscious fruit. All in all great progress has been made this year. The school management wish to thank the patrons for the loyal support. M. L. PERKINS,

Alaska Impossible to Autoists.

The New York to Paris automobilists have found speedy realization of the prediction that when they reached Alaska they would learn what bad going actually meant. At least, the only car which has yet gone thus far has made the discovery. The American machine, which it was expected would push on through the Alaskan wastes to Nome, on the western side of the territory, there taking ship passage to Siberia, is halted at Valdez. A dispatch from that point to the newspaper which is behind the scheme says it will be impossible to go through Alaska. Experiments made under conditions there, one feature being a heavy snowstorm, shows there is nothing but narrow trails, which cannot be "negotiated" by the autos. So the whole outfit has been loaded on a steamer which will return to Seattle, and from that point a vessel will take the car and the party accompanying it to Vladivostok. The dispatch from Valdez says with refreshing frankness: "It is impossible for any man who has not seen the trail over which the mail is carried from Valdez to Fairbanks to realize the conditions that exist to-day. To consider making the trip across Alaska in the face of such conditions would be a dream of 'a cgeechaco siyass,' in the Chinook jargon, which means the Alaskan tenderfoot." In the opinion of the Troy (N. Y.) Times, this outcome is not surprising, for at the outset it was predicted in various quarters that no automobile could succeed in getting through the Alaskan wilderness. Even the much-berated highways of New York state must appear like first-class roads by comparison with the Alaskan trails. And parts of Siberia are likely to be not much better.

American Educational Methods.

Here is another tribute to the value of American educational methods. In a paper read by Sir William Henry Preece, formerly president of the Institution of Civil Engineers, before the Royal Society of Arts in London, the speaker mentioned the difficulty if not impossibility of making a comparison between English and American methods, owing to the fact that the American boy possesses "the energy and smartness of a new race; the European boy mentally is two years behind him." This explained the difference in curricula and examination papers. But it is American adaptation to these different conditions which accounts for the success of educational methods here. Still further testimony to the efficacy of American ideas is found in the proposition from Germany that the conversational style of teaching languages be put into practice by an exchange of American and German professors, the American professors instructing German students by this method, and vice versa. German educators are alive to the practical demands of the times, and appear to derive much inspiration from the United States.

The interest which Germany has shown in the matter of canal construction and the enterprise which is providing a great system of interior waterways have been mentioned repeatedly. Now comes the announcement that Bavaria is preparing to provide itself with deep canals that will enable it to have such communication with the larger bodies as will constitute a connecting link in traffic between the North sea and the Black sea. In a word, Bavaria is ambitious to become a maritime state. There is strong belief that such a canal system will bring enormous benefit to the agricultural and manufacturing industries of the kingdom, and the plans in contemplation involve the expenditure of $90,000,000. Fresh proof that this is a canal and deep waterways age.

Enoch Arden cases in real life appear to turn out differently. The poet gave a pathetic finish to the story by having the hero perform an act of renunciation by giving his wife up to the other man. A husband who had been mourned as dead returned to his Tennessee home to find the lady who had supposed herself to be his widow married to another and with a new parcel of children in the house. He gallantry waived his legal rights and allowed the woman her choice between the old husband and the new, and she promptly took the first, and No. 2 says he will accept the decision and move to have the second marriage set aside. This is not a bit romantic, but it seems to be a sensible way out of the matrimonial tangle.

It is stated that the heart of a vegetarian beats 58 times a minute, and that of a meat-eater 75 times. Thus the meat-eating young man with a vegetarian sweetheart can see how difficult it is at times for "two hearts to beat as one."

TO STUDY LOST RACE

MISSOURI TEACHER GOING TO LONELY ARCTIC ISLE.

Inhabitants, a Race of Eskimos Holding Iself Aloof from Its Neighbors, Have Progressed, but Do Not Know There's a World.

Macon, Mo.—Dr. Rudolph M. Anderson, who for the last two years has occupied the chair of physiology at Blees Military academy, has gone to New York, where he joined the staff of the American Museum of Natural History. The express purpose in Dr. Anderson aligning himself with the museum is to take charge of an expedition to locate an unknown tribe of Esquimaux on a small island in the Arctic ocean. Dr. Anderson's associate in command will be Dr. Stefansson, also of the museum staff. The balance of the company will be natives of the far north.

A voyage lasting two years has been planned. If successful the gentlemen will devote a large part of their time to the study of the lost tribe, their language and their manner of living, and will endeavor to bring back with them some of the members, together with as large a collection of objects illustrating their forms of worship, method of hunting and of living as is possible to transport.

No white man has ever met any member of this isolated tribe, and the knowledge of its existence comes from Esquimaux picked up here and there by whaling vessels. From these it is gathered that the islanders are a rigorously exclusive set, but that they have advanced beyond other tribes in their skill in making implements of the chase and in the construction of their habitations. Whether the tribesmen from the mainland will be able to converse with them is a question for future solution, and there is even a more important problem—whether the hermit kingdom will permit their visitors to land.

Of course the voyagers will go to them with the outstretched hand of friendship, and will endeavor in every way possible to win their good will. Then will come the interesting feature of their mission—making them understand that there is a great outside world beyond their little island, which is only a pin-point in the ocean.

Dr. Anderson and Dr. Stefansson are stalwart Norsemen, inured to the hardships of a cold climate, and thoroughly at home on snowshoes and dog sledges. They will leave New York soon for Edmonston, British Columbia. From Edmonston they will voyage down (which means northwest) the Mackenzie river to Herschel island, at the mouth of the river. This puts them into the Arctic ocean. They expect to get their supplies, dogs and sledges on the island, and will there arrange for their native company.

The next part of the journey will be made on a whaling vessel to the mouth of the Copper Mine river. From there they will cruise along the coast to the small island beyond Prince Albert island. On this small island they expect to find the queer tribe that is not aware it is lost.

The museum wishes authentic information regarding these faraway people for the purpose of building up a composite group of all the human and animal species of the world, and to illustrate the methods of living, of religion and of warfare of every class of people.

Big Demand for Farm Horses.

G. K. Holmes, chief of the division of foreign markets of the department of agriculture, has found that the automobile has replaced about 60,000 horses in this country up to the present time, and farm horses have never been in such great demand as at the present moment. In fact, the demand for horses for farm and other business uses has become stronger and stronger during the last two or three years, the farm horses alone in use on January 1, 1908, numbering no less than 19,992,000 in round numbers.

Toilet Club for Dogs.

There has recently been opened in one of London's fashionable streets a toilet club for dogs. There the pets of the smart set can have their hair dressed and their coats trimmed to immaculate perfection. For three shillings they can be bathed. If their teeth are imperfect they can be filled or extracted, and if their claws protrude too far they can be daintily manicured.

SLEEP IN A CITY TREE.

New York Boy Makes His Summer Home in a Big Walnut.

New York.—Sleeping outdoors in a rudely constructed house erected among the branches of a high walnut tree in the heart of Flatbush a young Polytechnic Institute student has adopted a novel method of "getting near to nature." The tree sleeper will commence this way of sleeping just as soon as the weather begins to show signs of summer. Last year he tried this method of outdoor life, starting in the early spring and continuing until the first real snowfall of the season.

The "tree house," as the people in the neighborhood call it, is located on the lawn surrounding the home of Mrs. W. T. Lees, who lives on Flatbush avenue, near Avenue I, Flatbush. W. Thompson Lees is the tree dweller.

A wooden stairway winds around the tree's trunk leading to the single chamber above, allowing an easy ascent to be made. The entire structure is made of wood and was designed by young Lees and his chum, Vail Applegate, a freshman at Dartmouth college. The boys built the house a little more than two years ago, but it is only lately that they have converted it into a sleeping place.

At first their intention was simply to build a "crow's nest" where they could seclude themselves on rainy afternoons and days when it was too hot for active exercise. The "crow's nest" did not prove to be large enough, so the boys added a large platform which forms what they call their piazza. This piazza is roomy enough for an ordinary sized dining-room table and comfortably accommodates six or eight diners.

After Lees and Applegate had the house completed their parents took an interest in it. They recognized that it would be a fine place to sit in the warm weather. Mrs. Lees suggested that a stairway be added to enable the older folk to climb to the tree top. It took the boys three months to build it.

It was last summer that Lees and Applegate decided that they would like to see how it would feel to sleep out in the open. They covered the top of the house with panes of glass and this gave them all the light, day or night, they needed. The trial worked so well tha they declared that thereafter they would, while the weather was warm, sleep in the tree.

ANCIENT HOUSE OF WORSHIP.

Church in City of Mexico Oldest in North America.

City of Mexico.—The chapel of the Conception, in the City of Mexico, is the oldest house of worship on the North American continent. By this it is meant that it was used longer for that purpose than any other building. It was erected in 1541 and has served almost continuously since that date as a place where daily devotions were held. This ancient building is still in a splendid state of preservation. It is situated in the Conception plaza or square. It is small but attractive architecturally, and never fails to interest antiquarians who visit the city. In the early days of its history a large convent was situated adjacent to it, but with the growth of the city, streets were cut through the convent buildings and nothing now remains to indicate that they were once a part of the church property. It is stated that for a century or more after its erection this chapel was the most fashionable church in the city. Its devout worshippers numbered many of the people of wealth and high social standing.

Wins Prize for Kidney Research.

Dr. Norman Ditman has received the Gibbs prize of $20,000, offered by the New York Academy for the best original research work on the kidneys. The prize was founded to create an interest in the study of Bright's disease. Dr. Ditman's investigations tried to account for the unnecessary two-thirds of man's meat diet, and to see if this had any close connection with the poisons present in the system of a person afflicted with Bright's disease.

POWER A GOLD MINE

RESERVOIRS ARE PROPOSED IN APPALACHIAN MOUNTAINS.

If Cutting of Forests Can Be Stopped Enormous Wealth May Be Reaped from Water of Streams, Says One Report.

Washington.—The greatest development of water power recorded in the United States has been accomplished during the last few years on the rivers which drain the southern Appalachian mountains, according to an official report of the water resources of this region. It is estimated that there is at least 2,800,000 indicated horsepower from the streams which have their headwaters on this watershed and more than half of this power is available for economic development. Only a small part of this has been used, but that which has been utilized has been one of the most important factors in the recent industrial development of the south.

One great difficulty encountered by users of water power is that it cannot be had the whole year, but must be supplemented for a time each summer by costly fuel power, the streams running too low to be of service. As the years go on the low water periods are growing longer. This is because the forests at the headwaters of the streams are being cut off, with the result that the melting winter snows and the spring rains pour off the denuded and hardened land in devastating floods, sending down for a few weeks far more water than they can use and reducing the capacity and usefulness of their millponds by filling them with hundreds of tons of sand and soil which the floods scour off the unprotected upper slopes.

If indiscriminate cutting of the forests on the crests of the watershed can be stopped there is a possibility, according to a report by experts, of increasing the development of power up to three to 30 times the 1,400,000 horsepower at present available. The method proposed to develop the Appalachian river resources to the total of 42,000,000 horsepower is to have storage reservoirs which would catch the surplus waters of the spring and retain them until the summer, when the mills now have to fall back on fuel or close.

The United States geological survey has kept records of stream flow in the Appalachians for a number of years and recently made a careful study of the possibilities of storage reservoirs in that region. The forest service has published its report under the title "The Relation of the Southern Appalachian Mountains to the Development of Waterpower."

Experts of the geological survey who made the investigation, after picking out reservoir sites and estimating their capacity and the area from which they would receive the run-off, consider the figures given very conservative. Even with only 1,400,000 horsepower the annual return at $20 a horsepower per year would amount to $28,000,000, equal to a gross income of three per cent. on a capital of about $933,000,000.

FIND RARE LACE IN TRUNK.

Barber Spends $4.50 at Auction and Gets $3,000 Bargain.

Kalamazoo, Mich.—"This gentlemen, is a trunk," said the auctioneer, dragging it forward from the heap of unclaimed goods he was "auctioning off" for an express company. "A trunk," repeated the auctioneer. "It's full of something, the Lord knows what. Too heavy to be atmosphere and too light to be pig iron. Speak up, gentlemen, take a chance. How much am I offered?"

The bids ran from 25 cents to $4.50, and the auctioneer promptly closed the sale. The high bidder, a local barber, loaded his purchase into an express wagon and took it home. There he broke the seal and discovered that he had bought for $4.50 a quantity of lace which local merchants declare is worth in the retail market between $2,000 and $3,000.

The trunk came to Kalamazoo from Detroit with a lot of other unclaimed stuff from the express company's office there. Kalamazoo is one of the selling points for such goods. The receptacle was sealed and the seal was not broken. On it was the address, "Mrs. J. W. Weber, Detroit, Mich., U. S. A."

CIGARS AT 15 CENTS PER 100.

So an Entry in an Old-Time Ledger Shows.

Wayne, Pa.—Two old ledgers, which were in use for many years in the old Mather homestead in Rednor, now the Ellison property, have recently come into the possession of John L. Mather of Wayne. One of the books was used by Mr. Mather's great-great-great-grandfather, and the entries start in 1759. They are continued in the second book for a period extending over 75 years.

One of the interesting features contained in the old ledgers is the change in 1816 from the English system of pounds, shillings and pence to the United States system of dollars and cents. The books are in excellent state of preservation and the writing is not faded. One notation that would make the average smoker wonder what sort of tobacco was used in the good old days is: "To 100 cigars, 15 cents."

AT A CRITICAL TIME.

Women Are Likely to Suffer with Dangerous Kidney Disorders.

Mrs. John Kirk, R. F. D. No. 2, Detroit, Mich., says: "Five years ago at a critical time of life I was on the verge of a collapse with kidney troubles, backache, dizziness, puffy dropsy swellings and urinary irregularities. I lost flesh and felt languid, nervous or unstrung all the time. As my doctor did not help me I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. In a few weeks all these symptoms left me. I now weigh 163 pounds and feel in excellent health."

A Kansas Girl's Advice.

A Lincoln county girl writes this advice to the Kansas City Star: "Why do young men do so much loafing? Go to work. Push ahead! I am but a young girl, but I clothe myself and have money in the bank. I lay up more money every year than any young man within three miles of my home. When they get a dollar they go to a dance and go home a dollar out. I advise all girls to cut clear of loafing boys. Stand by the boy who works, and never put your arm through the handle of a jug."

BOY KEPT SCRATCHING.

Eczema Lasted 7 Years—Face Was All Raw—Skin Specialists Failed, But Cuticura Effected Cure.

"When my little boy was six weeks old an eruption broke out on his face. I took him to a doctor, but his face kept on getting worse until it got so bad that no one could look at him. His whole face was one crust and must have been very painful. He scratched day and night until his face was raw. Then I took him to all the best specialists in skin diseases but they could not do much for him. The eczema got on his arms and legs and we could not get a night's sleep in months. I got a set of Cuticura Remedies and he felt relieved the first time I used them. I gave the Cuticura Remedies a good trial and gradually the eczema healed all up. He is now seven years old and I think the trouble will never return. Mrs. John G. Klumpp, 80 Niagara St., Newark, N. J., Oct. 17 and 22, 1907."

A Household Necessity.

I would almost as soon think of running my farm without implements as without Hunt's Lightning Oil. I regard it as a household necessity. Yours truly, Bees in Block of Stone.

While workmen were sawing through a block of Bath stone at Exeter, England, they cut into a cavity in which was found a cluster of two or three dozen live bees.

The incident occurred at the works of Messrs. Collard & Sons, monumental sculptors. There was not much sign of life in the bees at first, but when air was admitted they gradually revived and after a few hours several of them were able to fly.
